I have created an app which has background service where user can sync gps location. So for that I am sending location coordinates to server, once I send a message to server about that. Now I want to notify the user about that message. I am using AWS lambda as a server. Note: I am not sending any message because I want to use some other one. if (intent!= null) { if (intent.getStringExtra("ds_message")!= null) { startService(new Intent(getApplicationContext(), NotificationService.class)); finish(); } } private void sendLocationData() { try { if (locationTracker!= null) { if (destinationCheck!= null) { if (destinationCheck.isEqual(destination) == true) { 570a42141b
