A...Q: iText - How to insert PdfText and PdfFont objects from existing PDF document? Here's my situation: i am using iText to manipulate PDF documents i am building a PDF structure (using PdfStamper) where I have set a PDFWriter object. This all works fine. However, I have found that, to make sure that the headers and footers are properly placed, I have to explicitly set them when building the PdfStamper object. This is what I am doing: PdfWriter writer = new PdfWriter(destination); PdfStamper stamper = new PdfStamper(writer, stamperStream); PdfAcroForm acroForm = stamper.AcroForm; acroForm.MergeFields = true; acroForm.DefaultFormFields.SetFieldsState(true, true); acroForm.SetFieldsPosition(PdfName.RECT, 0, PdfName.LEFT); My question is: How do I set PdfText and PdfFont objects to have the same values as the ones that exist in the PDF document?
