It lets you clean the registry, including cleaning cache files and deleting invalid entries. It also can be used to find and fix problems with the Windows registry, and correct system errors. The program also has a built-in uninstaller. Registry cleaning isn't easy but PC-CLEANER makes it easy. It starts a scan process that checks for broken entries in the registry, uses special algorithms to find problems and fixes them. Because it has easy to use controls it will guide you through the process. To start a scan, select the checkboxes for the items you want to include in the scan. You can choose to scan for errors, invalid entries, unused entries, system entries, startup entries, and the documents/folders you wish to delete. You can choose to scan for broken items, invalid entries, unused entries, and system entries. You have to select which of these you want to analyze to get a better idea of what the program can do for you. When you select any of these items, PC-CLEANER checks to see if anything looks wrong. If it does, it will display a warning in red, in the bottom right corner of the screen. Click the Yes button and the item will be fixed. If the problem persists, the program will display a warning and the warning will be in blue, in the bottom right corner of the screen. Before you proceed, PC-CLEANER recommends that you make a backup of the

Macro recording utility that lets you create your own keystroke shortcuts in many applications. Just type your commands in and click the Record button and they are automatically stored as keystrokes, ready to be used anytime. Fast and easy to use Once installed, record any number of macros in a variety of applications. You can record a macro in any application that supports keystrokes such as Excel, PowerPoint, Entourage, Outlook, Word, Publisher, Paint Shop Pro, Excel, Access, Quicken, Outlook, DOS-Batch, AutoCAD, Office and more. The macros are recorded in the application that the macro is recorded in and in the folder that you specified. You can record a macro in any application as long as the program you are using supports the CTRL + SHIFT + M combination. Macro recording and play Now you can easily play or run a recorded macro. Just click the Play button to replay the macro and then click the Run button to run the macro. Macro recording and playback recorder The program can record and replay both normal and silent macros. You can set the recording duration, which will allow the program to record macros for as long as needed. You can also set the recording speed. Shorter duration means that you can record more macros in a shorter amount of time. Longer duration means that the program will have more time to record macros. You can select an individual macro, a folder or all macros to be recorded. You can also control the sound level and microphone volume of the recorded macros. You can also set the program to be always on so you will not have to click the Stop button after every macro. If you like the program, you can purchase additional features. Extensive features and flexibility This is a very comprehensive program. It can record and play macros in a large
