I recently heard this from a Catholic friend, that Jesus died to take away the punishment for our sins, but didn't die to be our savior. Why do people believe this when the Bible clearly states that Jesus died for our sins and rose again? Why do some people say that you just have to trust in Jesus' death, but not in his resurrection? A: You are correct that the Bible does state that Jesus died for our sins: John 3:16 - For God so loved the world that He gave His one and only Son, that whoever believes in Him shall not perish but have eternal life. However, John 17:11, with "my Father in heaven", seems to confirm that Jesus died on the cross for our sake: John 17:1-5 - Now this is the message you have heard from the beginning: that we should love one another, because love is from God; and every one who loves is born of God and knows God. 2 The one who does not love does not know God, for God is love. 3 By this love the world knows that you are in the world, and the world knows that it does not have God. 4 The one who believes that Jesus is the Christ is born of God, and every one who loves the father loves his child as well. 5 This is how you have come to know the love of God: because He gave His Son for you. It might also be relevant to note that, in the Gospels, Jesus never condemns what he sees as the sins of the world, and there are many other places where the author of the Gospel specifically defends people who "turn the other cheek" (Matthew 5:39; Luke 6:29) and "resist not evil" (Matthew 5:39; Luke 11:34). 77a5ca646e
