APEX Tournament (2022)

What's new in APEX Tournament:

The APEX Tournament is an organisation dedicated to the promotion of the spectacle side of e-Sports. The tournament is organised annually by Ronny Thorsen and his staff, since its establishment in 2011. Over the past years the APEX celebrated their existence by celebrating events like offline LANs and competitions like the SC2 Legends Game. The name of the organisation is a reference to the games the tournament is supporting: APEX contains the most popular DOTA game yet (2013-2018) and the PC action-adventure game series (2013-present), while SC2 Legends lets the people play Starcraft 2 in an attempt to create an atmosphere that is reminiscent of the World Championship Series. Further to that is also the individual importance of the APEX tournaments, as they are a stepping stone towards the events of the World Championship Series (SC2) and other large tournaments. The APEX consists of 4 tournaments per year during even months, where around 500-1000 gamers have the opportunity to qualify for these tournaments. However, depending on the tournament, a fifth tournament can be held at the end of the year. All APEX tournaments have a qualifier component where players can participate directly in the tournament. Within the team based leagues, different age groups are formed. While the Beginners League consists of players who are never played before, the Intermediate League is made up of players who have played in another Amateur league. The Pro League contains players who have a month-long-career in APEX, while the Masters League consists of the best players of the Pro League. This is the tournament where players who didn't qualify for the other tournaments will find their way into. Up until 2013, players who were part of the APEX tournaments were given full access to the qualification process for the WCG. History of The APEX The APEX started as an attempt to create a more structured and transparent eSports experience in Denmark. Unlike in the western world, there are only a few e-sports related orgs in Denmark. In the North of Europe, the largest organisation is FACEIT (Federation of Amateur Counter-Strike ECU) is headquartered in Helsinki. There are however multiple e-sports orgs in Denmark, including the Danish Esports Association. Ronny and his team supported this idea through creating an e-sports org called Den Danske ESL, within which they set up the APEX tournaments, named The Danish Apex. The first tournament the APEX hosted was the ENCE VET
