The couple had a son, Ja'Cam, who was born in 2004 and died in May of 2008. The boy was born with cystic fibrosis. A civil action lawsuit was filed in an American court on the information that the father, Bill Griffiths, had had sexual relations with the mother, Jessica Heyman, on only three dates - the two that resulted in the birth of Ja'Cam and one with a prior boyfriend. Griffiths was married at the time. The lawsuit was filed on behalf of an Arizona resident, Francisca Hernandez. Ex-partner of cystic fibrosis patient claims dad fathered child illegally Slander: A civil action lawsuit was filed on behalf of an Arizona resident, Francisca Hernandez. Francisca Hernandez, an Arizona resident, has filed a lawsuit against one of her ex-partners claiming he fathered her son illegally. Her son, Ja'Cam, was born in 2004 to Jessica Heyman. However, a paternity test has not been filed. The lawsuit has been filed on behalf of Francisca Hernandez. The lawsuit contains, according to the Arizona Republic, allegations that Griffiths fathered the boy illegally. In the lawsuit, the mother said that she was "regularly involved in a sexual relationship" with Griffiths. It is alleged that she engaged in sexual intercourse with the father "approximately three times", after the two met "as partners in a Cystic Fibrosis Support Group." Griffiths was also alleged to be the father of another son, born to Francisca Hernandez in April 2009. The lawsuit claimed that at the time, the father "was married to his current wife, Jessica Heyman." The couple, according to the lawsuit, were in a "full blown relationship". When the boy was born, the father reportedly asked the mother to have the child. It is alleged that the father, at the time, "was unaware that he had fathered the child." The lawsuit also contained a statement by the mother, saying that she was having a relationship with Griffiths because the pair had problems with their former partners in the cystic fibrosis support group.
