However, they have lost eight straight games to an unranked Iowa Hawkeyes team. But why? The answer can be found in the quarterback matchup for Saturday's game in Iowa City. There have been a lot of changes at Penn State since the last time these two teams played in a bowl game. The most significant of those is the promotion of Trace McSorley to the starting quarterback position. McSorley took over the starting job in an incident where former starter Trace Woodside was suspended for the season after a DUI arrest. Since the promotion of McSorley to the starting quarterback spot, the Nittany Lions have won two of three games against Iowa in the series. They won the most recent matchup in 2017 at Penn State 38-30. c9d1549cdd
