"Second Chance" is a game in the style of a life simulator. If you are a veteran gamer, this game is based on the old Diablo 2 mod called "Second Chance". If you are new to the "Life simulation" genre, you've been infected with the hex game fever, and want to beat your friends with an unfair advantage, "Second Chance" is perfect for you! How to play: Your main objective is to find a job, and get as high a score as you can on the career test. One of the difficulties is that you can only move around the areas you need to for work. This can get monotonous, so alternate between finding jobs, and keeping your character busy with chess! You are allowed to complete all the tests, so long as you get higher than your friends. If you want a more relaxing experience, you can force one of your friends to play with an AI, this is called "Peaceful Mode". There are 7 avatars to choose from: Civilian: You are being stalked by the IRS! Let's see how you do in the triple threat final examinations! Biker: Your boss doesn't pay you overtime for knocking off in the middle of a Friday afternoon. Let's hex him! Creative: Your boss wouldn't show you the gun, and wouldn't let you ask for a raise. Now let's hex him! Martial Artist: You're the CEO of a large corporation, and it's time to pay yourself a raise! Let's see how you'll do on the annual performance review. Poacher: You work a hard but stable 8 hour shift, and can't afford a vacation yet. Let's see how you do on that final test. Priest: None of the test books you've borrowed have helped you with that final final on the meditative energy restoration. This quiz will! Warrior: You've been trying to get into the ROTC for years now, and won't stop until you qualify! Let's see if you can pass the physical requirements for the draft. Things I Like March 20, 2014 Grab-A-CupPlay Games have just released the newest grab-a-cup game for your cell phone. Grab-A-Cup, as the name suggests is a game that is about grabbing a cup of coffee. You must ensure that you are able to pick up the cup that you have the most difficulty grabbing. Once you have grasped the cup, you must figure out how to make the coffee pour into a moka pot. Once the coffee is poured, you can run to the nearest neighbor and get some bacon and eggs. There are a number of different levels in which you will take part. Once you get to the ultimate challenge in the game, you will be given a cup that you will need to use to win!The game is quite addictive and has you grabbing cups in all different situations. From while you are driving, to while you are in the shower, the game is here to satisfy your addiction. If you are a coffee lover or just a bacon lover, you should definitely get this game. There is a free version of the game available which will allow you to try it out, but there is a one time $1.99 purchase that allows you to download the full game, unlock all of the levels, and be able to play against other players online. With the free version, you will not be able to play online and you will have to start from the beginning when you decide to buy it. What's new:

No Time to Relax is the debut studio album by American hip hop recording artist Lecrae. It was released on August 20, 2008, by Reach Records and after nine months the album was released in Canada on April 25, 2009, through Reach and Atlantic. The album's first single, "Shoplifter", was released on July 2, 2008. The second single, "I'm Not Rap (I'm a Rapper)", was released January 31, 2009. Critical response to the album was generally favorable. The album debuted at number three on the Billboard 200, selling about 55,000 copies in its first week. The album was listed on Rolling Stone as one of the top 40 albums of the year for 2008. It was also listed on USA Today's list of the top 10 hip hop albums of 2008. It was listed among the year-end top ten best sellers in the United States, followed by Kanye West's 808s & Heartbreak. Background and recording Music Lecrae's delivery on the album is characterized by a distinctive grimy R&B rap flavored sound that, aside from stylistic beats, achieves cohesion with the themes of the songs and draws from his upbringing in church and his early origins with his mother and siblings. It also features a heavy influence from gospel, with Lecrae rapping more gospel style. Lecrae uses more "trancended" rapping, which is a term coined by Louis Bell, the baritone tenor of the New York City Gay Men's Chorus, in which the voice is raised one octave above normal over "an emphatic, and in many cases subtle, use of accented syllables which distinguishes mens' voices from womens'". Both Lecrae's songs and the overall message he presents are mainly about redemption. The lyrics all relate to Jesus Christ or his salvation, for which Lecrae is highly-prized by Christians worldwide. The albums art style, displayed prominently in the cover and title of the album, is a stylistic parallel with the central theme of the album, which is redemption, and Christian redemption at that. Singles Lecrae's debut single "Shoplifter" was released on July 2, 2008, exactly two years after he wrote the song "Clothes". The song debuted at No. 6 on the Billboard Hot 100 and No. 1 on the Hot R&B/Hip-Hop
