SRA Verbal tests are designed to measure aptitude in reading the written word. 5 out of 5 stars[Effect of silver nanoparticles on growth and nutrient absorption of Sesbania grandiflora]. The effect of silver nanoparticles on seedlings of Sesbania grandiflora were investigated in the present study. The results showed that most of the AgNPs applied at the dose of 5.8 mg x L(-1) and above had no adverse effects on seedlings and its germination rate, while AgNPs at the doses below 5.8 mg x L(-1) had significant effect on growth of seedlings. The accumulation of Ag in roots was significantly increased as compared with that in shoots, and the translocation factor of the two organs was relatively lower. The concentration of Ag in the shoot increased with increase in AgNPs dose, while the concentration of Ag in the root decreased with increase in AgNPs dose, especially after exposure to 8 mg x L(-1). The photosynthetic rate, stomatal conductance and net photosynthetic rate decreased, while the intercellular CO₂ concentration and transpiration rate of seedlings exposed to different doses of AgNPs increased.

Show HN: Implementing a real time search engine - drej ===== ghc I like the look of this, but there's two things that immediately made me question its effectiveness: 1\ The "others" part of the sentence "Think of everyone who was struck by lightning in the time interval as being an atom or molecule that was somehow rendered to white" 2\ The "fuzzy search" part of the sentence "You could imagine our collections are analogous to fingerprints of the atoms in a pool. With that in mind, it's not hard to see that we don't look at each and every atom in each item, but instead we concentrate on the fingerprints of the atoms which show up over and over again across various items." I'm not saying I don't think there's something here, but I felt I was taking something with a little bit of an air of authenticity, and as an HN reader it made me feel like they were trying to burn that authenticity, when what they should have done was embrace it. ----- raool You might want to take a look at QueryDNS.com. It has a demo with similar functionality. It is built on top of Twitter API. To have fun with life, you need to have fun with everything. Sometimes it is easy to find humour in everyday life, that is why I am writing about it here. But not everything is as funny as you think and I will also write about life as it is. Enjoy!
