Competing entries The Spanish broadcaster was TVE. The Spanish song festival was conceived by TVE and organised by the ACV in conjunction with the Ministry of Culture. TVE released two song selection compilations called: "Algo es Amor" and "Raíces Hispánicas". They were open to any artist who had performed live on Spanish TV. Around 250 artists and composers participated in the selection. Then, detecting a sudden change in the velocity of a continuously moving object. To determine how oculomotor neurons encode the velocity of a continuously moving object, we recorded eye movements in alert monkeys while they tracked a dot moving in a randomly chosen direction. A dot was presented at one of three different velocities: 1.5 degrees/s, 9 degrees/s, or 30 degrees/s, and the dot's direction was randomly assigned for each trial. The dot's movement was either aligned, with the dot's apparent direction matched to the saccadic direction of the pursuit movement (pro-saccade), or orthogonal (anti-saccade). The monkeys performed the
