]Q: iTextSharp PDF Highlighting Text I am using iTextSharp to create a PDF report and wanted to add some highlighting to a text that I am sending from a textblock on a form. I have added a marker to a text and then I want to add it to a pdf form. I am using the following code:

doc.AddMarker(textblock.Text, 1,
new RasterizationColorProfileDefinit
ion(ColorSpaceName.DeviceGray));
I create the final pdf by using this

code: doc.Save("MyFileName.pdf");

My question is what would be the best method to highlight a specific part of the text in the pdf? A: You may be able to use Ghostscript to do this, passing the necessary data to identify the start and end lines.

You can use something like this:
Ghostscript.GS.convert(FromFile, ToFile, [GS.Options]);

Surgical management of basal cell carcinoma of the lip. Basal cell carcinoma of the lip is relatively uncommon, with a peak incidence in the sixth decade. Most often it is manifested as a slow-growing and relatively painless lesion, although it can cause considerable cosmesis and functional problems.

Reconstruction of the altered cutaneous lip contour is most commonly by direct closure or by skin grafting. Since the treatment of choice is wide local excision with direct closure or Mohs' micrographic surgery, local recurrence is rare 6d1f23a050
