(This time) you're a PSrockola 4.We have heard recently that the Department of Commerce has removed an extra 25 per cent duty on Chinese made tyres - but what is the impact on consumers of this tax which came into effect on 1st November 2018? There are two components to this duty. The first component is a "buy local" levy of 25 per cent on the "relevant value" of each tyre supplied by an importer. The second component is a "mark-up tax" of 12.5 per cent on the "relevant value" of each tyre. The relevant value of each tyre is determined by the "exporter" - in this case the importer - as follows: For a tyre which has a "relevant value" below 6d1f23a050
