February 3, 2017 à€” Aura Same thing happened to me. Bought a lifetime premium license in 2011 and used it until an update brought it back to free. After that, I returned to the free annual. I had no intention of buying the premium version. I used the free version and didn't complain or ask any questions. I know this may be related to the company's user policy. But it can't be my fault. I haven't used a premium account for a year and I didn't use it to hide any account issues.
